800th ANNIVERSARY OF THE MOST HOLY ROSARY

1214—2014

Dear Friends and Benefactors,

This year marks the 800th anniversary of the heavenly gift of the Holy Rosary to St. Dominic and through him to the whole Church. Why does the Blessed Mother insist so much on the daily recitation of this prayer? There is admirable divine wisdom in it. It is truly a hidden treasure. Let us first recall the exact words of Our Lady in answering St. Dominic's prayer (words found in the 2nd Rose of St. Louis de Montfort's Secret of the Rosary), and then make some applications.

The year was 1214; St. Dominic had already founded the Order of Preachers, later called the Dominicans, and he was immediately faced with the Albigensian heresy which was spreading especially through the South of France where St. Dominic was. Our Lady appeared to him after he had been praying seriously and doing severe penance for many days in order to know how to fight the heretics. She said to him:

“Dear Dominic, do you know what weapon the Most Holy Trinity wants to use to reform the world?”

St. Dominic replied: “O my Lady, you know it much better than I do, because, next to your Son, Jesus Christ, you have always been the instrument of our salvation.”

Our Lady continued: “I want you to know that in this kind of warfare the ‘battering ram’ has always been the Angelic Psalter which is the corner stone of the New Testament. So, if you want to reach these hardened souls and win them to God, preach my Psalter!”

Our Lady gave a means “to reform the world”. Indeed, the heretics at the time of St. Dominic were not only denying the divinity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, but were attacking the family and the civil institutions of the state, thus undermining the spiritual and temporal orders of Christendom - this was in 1214 A.D. in France. This expression, “reform the world,” is not different from that of St. Paul “to restore all things in Christ”.

It is not, therefore, surprising to find that popes and kings have requested crusades of rosaries against all kinds of plagues threatening both Church and State—threatening ultimately the salvation of innumerable souls.

St. Dominic did indeed listen to his Queen, and thousands of heretics were converted.

The first Dominican Pope, St. Pius V, used the Rosary in the crusade against the Muslim Turks who were dangerously threatening to invade Europe. And the Rosary won again. It was 7th October, 1571. Less than one hundred years later, Louis XIII of France, also heeded Our Lady in a war against the Protestants, and, in thanksgiving for the victory, he built the famous church of Our Lady of Victories, in Paris. The feast of Our Lady of Victories is on 7th October! And the list of the victories of the Rosary is long and continues until our own days. There have been a number of national victories against the ills of communism in the last 100 years (Hungary, Brazil, Austria, Philippines and others) thanks to the Holy Rosary. However, communism as a whole has not yet been defeated.

Whether it is against the Albigensians, the Protestants, the Muslims or the communists, “in this kind of warfare, our ‘battering ram’”, the Rosary, must always be used.

The Holy Rosary is an eminently Catholic prayer. In it we find our Creed, and all the great mysteries from the Incarnation until “life everlasting.” We proclaim by it the unique prerogatives of the Immaculate Virgin, always “strong as an army in battle array”: her divine Motherhood, her Immaculate Conception, her Co-Redemption, her role as Mediatrix of all graces, her glory in Heaven. The Rosary has been used to save the family, attacked from all sides, whether by divorce, abortion, contraception, sex education, or by what is now called “the theory of gender”. This latest insanity is presently raging in the entire western world and is aggressively promoted in the schools. This crazy theory states that we are not born men or women, we become men or women by our choice or by our environment and education!

“[We must] reach these hardened souls and win them to God,” said Our Lady. The Rosary is not just a prayer like other devotions; it is concerned with bringing souls into the fold of the only true Church to “win them to God” means to convert them to the true Church, which is exactly what the Rosary has done throughout all its history. It is, therefore, a remedy against the false ecumenism promoted by Vatican II and particularly in the “spirit of Assisi”, i.e., the various inter-religious meetings such as that of Assisi in 1986.

The Rosary is a means “to reform the world”, thus it is a major “battering ram” against the secularization of states promoted by the perverse religious liberty, and officially preached by Pope John Paul II. He dared to say: “The state cannot claim a direct or indirect competence on the religious convictions of people. It cannot arrogate to itself the right to impose or forbid the public profession and practice of the religion of a person or a community” (8th Dec. 1987, for World Day of Peace). And again, “We must wish that true religious liberty be granted to all and in all places, and the Church works towards that, especially in countries with a majority of Catholics, where she has a great influence. However, it is not a question of the religion of the majority or of the minority, but truly of an inalienable right of every human person.” (Encyclical Redemptoris Missio, 7th Dec. 1990, n. 39) Such expressions explicitly express the rejection of the social kingship of Christ. How much is the Rosary needed here too!

Pope Francis has announced the canonization of Popes John XXIII and John Paul II for 27th April. God forbid that such an event take place—it would be in fact the canonization of the errors of Vatican II, nothing less. It would also reduce to nothing all these words of Our Lady about reforming the world and winning souls to God.

For all these reasons, in the District of Asia, we have dedicated this year, 2014, to the Holy Rosary. And at the same time, our Superior General, Bishop Bernard Fellay, has called for another Rosary Crusade that goes from 1st January, to 5th June 2014. Let us therefore use this “battering ram” to reform the world, to win hardened souls to God, and to storm Heaven in order that the announced “canonizations” do not take place.

God bless you all.

La Méthode Bernadette

A CATHECHISM METHOD FOR OUR TIMES

Conception And Apogee

The Méthode Bernadette was the masterpiece of l'abbé Bogard, the Curé de Thaon-Les-Vosges, in eastern France, and his artist, Sister Marie de Jésus of the Bernadette Sisters which he founded. With a profound understanding of the evils of his time—modernism and atheistic materialism—in the years after the First World War, he devised a catechism based upon silhouette images which were both innocent and yet dramatic, conceived for children and yet captivating for adults, simple in composition and yet overflowing with information about Catholic doctrine, Bible history, the life of Jesus and history of the Church. The images by themselves are a monument to art, but, supported by a clearly enunciated, sensorial and mnemonic pedagogy which was effective in building a memorable synthesis of the faith in the minds of children of all ages and of all conditions, the Méthode Bernadette changed the sleepy parish of Thaon-Les-Vosges into a centre for printing and distribution of its catechism. The catechism course was eventually translated into 12 languages and shipped to 58 countries around the world. For 30 years, from 1934 to 1964 it formed millions of souls from French Indo-China to Quebec...

Passion

...and then came the Second Vatican Council. Shortly after the death of the then Canon Bogard in 1965; Sister Marie de Jésus was compelled to modify her images to reflect the doctrinal changes inspired by the Council (e.g. removing all depictions of Satan); and then, two years later, the local bishop commanded that the Bernadette Sisters stop their apostolic work altogether. Sister Marie de Jésus died with a heavy heart in 1969 and, with her, died a truly great work of Christian education....

Resurrection

... or so it seemed. The Méthode Bernadette lingered on in a few bookshops of the rebellious “traditionalists,” and time-served copies are still to be seen at their catechism classes, but, as the missions of the Society of St. Pius X develop throughout the world, the need for a coherent, compelling, comprehensive and easy to implement catechism course is leading to a more comprehensive renaissance in French, English and, hopefully one day, in Tamil. In short, La Méthode Bernadette is being brought to life again; its silhouettes are making the faith black-and-white for a new generation of children—enabling them to see clearly in a world of grey. May this work be blessed as before and bring an even greater eternal glory to God, to Canon Bogard and to his able artist, Sister Marie de Jésus. Ω

Saint Bernard Novitiate in Tacloban ♦ Philippines

“..and then once you’ve finished the high altar, you know, like the one at St. John Lateran in Rome, we need to think about the pillars in the nave..” explains Fr. Daniels to an attentive Mr. Bernard Fachon of France.

Report From Father Daniels

The Novitiate in Iloilo was safe even though it was in the line of the typhoon—the angels lifted the maelstrom at the right moment and it passed high overhead. The Brothers related how the clouds on high went mad but the Novitiate experienced only a very strong wind.

Not so much luck, however, for the city of Tacloban in Leyte and its vicinity. We have faithful there and a small chapel. When finally we came into contact with them, great was our relief that none of our faithful had died, even though all around them literally thousands lost their lives. Our faithful related to us how they persevered in the rosary for five hours. Outside their homes, the waters rose 3 to 4 feet, but there, inside where they were praying, only a little water entered Yet the doors were of simple wood and the ground level of their homes were lower than the outside. Certainly the angels worked overtime!

Some four weeks after the Typhoon, our superior ordered us to go to Tacloban to prepare the work of a large scale medical mission and re-building mission. What we saw in Tacloban City upon arrival was worse than words can describe. We have never seen the likes nor do we hope ever to see it again. The wind had raised the sea by 20 to 30 feet, which then swooped into the city. Big ships were thrown on the hapless homes, crushing, crashing and splintering them as if they were in a giant mince machine. Poor houses, concrete houses, big factories; all suffered the same lot. Concrete, steel and wood lay scattered as if some big bomb had blasted them to shreds. The smell was quite overpowering even four weeks later. Most of the dead had already been buried when we arrived but there was an immense lamentation of so many who had lost their dear ones and had not found their bodies. Even now, as we write you this letter, many bodies have not yet been found—probably carried out to sea.

The trash was heaped high as mountains everywhere. Electricity was gone; many slept under the open sky. Filthy water was everywhere and clean drinking water was hard to find.

So it was another four weeks later, at the end of January, that we began a medical mission and the rebuilding mission. We had some 115 volunteers from the four corners of the world and, in one week, our medical crew was able to see some 3,500 patients.

The Novitiate, Brothers and postulants were in charge of the rebuilding. A number of generous Australian men came to help, but, with limited access to building materials, it at first continued with difficulty. In most cases we were obliged to give the poor people a cash hand-out and ask them to rebuild their own houses with it. We did undertake to rebuild five homes, including the chapel which became a material store house, sleeping quarters and medical supply house. We hope Our Lord did not mind!? We spent two weeks working among the people, helping the medical mission and re-building homes. Since the work had not yet been completed when we returned, we contracted some Filipino workers to continue and finish it.

The trip to and fro was another experience, with constant set-backs. The weather had not cleared entirely and so the boats were constantly being cancelled, which left us stranded a number of times.

At times as these, we see human nature laid bare—the good side as well as the fallen. Some with the deepest gratitude, others with an incredible greed and jealousy. Love and hatred seems to come out at war in such times of strife.

In a city where filth and decay filled the air, we all got sick one after the other. Some ended up with three sicknesses all at once, which left them low for a few days.

Our chapel in Tacloban was always one of the small missions of our Filipino apostolate—about 20 to 30 souls. By the beginning of February it had risen to 105. It is another mystery of our strange human nature: to fall on our knees in difficult times and quickly forget Calvary when we are well and comfortable again. Ω

Holy Family Chapel, Tacloban, sustained significant storm damage in the typhoon....

...but the Brothers and the Aussies soon put things right again (“no worries mate”);...

...in all, they rebuilt the chapel (above) and five houses of the faithful.

An Elite For Christ

Archbishop Marcel Lefebvre, founder of the Society of St. Pius X, once remarked that a true priestly vocation is a miracle in today’s world! Our Lord has established the extension of His priesthood so men thereby may be saved, therefore a crisis in the priesthood will mean a crisis in the salvation of souls. St. John Vianney goes as far as to say that without priests, men will turn into savage animals! And who can doubt this awful crisis in the priesthood today. So many priests have abandoned their holy vocation since Vatican II in the 1960’s, the countless scandals of Churchmen displayed in the media, the empty seminaries that were once full, the virtual disappearance of sound doctrinal and moral training, a new liturgy introduced that misidentifies the august Sacrifice of the Mass as a simple gathering of the people for a communal meal with perhaps only religious tone! And we see the terrible effects...the civilization of nations moves each day further away from Christian nobility towards barbarianism.

Has the Good God abandoned His people? No, He gave to us Archbishop Lefebvre, and He charged him with the special task, after his long years of dedicated service to the Church, to work to form priests loyal to our Lord and to His mission. Hence, we have the Society of St. Pius X, in the past forty years up to the present, still forming an army of priests and religious after the Divine Model, and sending them throughout the world to give the sacraments as our Lord instituted them, to teach His truths and morals in unaltered fashion, to live His

Parish, Home and School

In the infinite wisdom and goodness of our Heavenly Father, He has created us social creatures. He has willed the family unit, He has willed society, He has willed the Church; hence in this path through life, men are not to be left alone but rather called to help one another in their temporal and spiritual needs, working together to reach our eternal end in the bliss of Heaven. And in this accord glorifying the Most Holy Trinity, we see the special union which must be had between the parish, home and school in order that a child be formed into a saint.

A harmony must then be had amongst these in support of each other, otherwise the composition goes amiss in discordant sounds.

Here at Our Lady of Victories, we keenly aim to lift the hearts of families to the beautiful praise of God. And that means, in our parish the priests keep the sacredness of worship, with the purity of doctrine and morals handed down to us through the Roman Catholic Faith. That means, we continue to encourage parents to make of their homes a place of formation in virtue blocking out dangerous occasions of evil. That means, that at Our Lady of Victories Catholic School of Quezon City, we will keep instilling true wisdom and never subject our little ones to corruption of their morals.

God wills it so, let us then march and sing together, that we and our children be joyful sons and daughters of God!

By the blessings of God, OLVCS continues to update and improve its grounds and facilities for a beautiful, unique and pleasant learning environment. After completion of an added technology workshop and classroom, the hard working welders stayed on to fabricate roof coverings for all our walkways, while inside painting and wood trimming continues. Thank you dearest benefactors!

Healthy Mind & Teeth

Although the soul is most important, nevertheless we must also see to the health of the body as we wish each student to have “a sound soul in a sound body.” We extend our profound gratitude to Dr. Elaine Araneta and Dr. Gina Lim for their excellent care during this year’s medical and dental check-ups at OLVCS. Fr. Daniels was invited to give a conference on "The Four Last Things" at the J.B. Maritime University. 400 students attended, after which, many were enrolled in the scapular of Our Lady of Mount Carmel.

A day of recollection for the graduating class of Daga Public High School was held at the novitiate on Saturday 22nd March. All priests and brothers, and also the sisters participated in this work. Each priest gave a conference. Hopefully it has put a little mark on the souls of these children. Hopefully we will be able to do more in this line.

On the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, Fr. Fabrice Loschi, prior of Singapore, performed an act of consecration to the Immaculate Heart of Mary inspired by St. John Marie Vianney, patron saint of parish priests. The names of all the faithful were written on a piece of paper and placed in a heart which was then hung around the neck of a statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary before the act of consecration. Our Lady's patronage is already being felt: on 8th January, the Montessori school at the priory was reopened with 2 teachers and eighteen children.

Dear Friends and Benefactors,

The Boat in the Window

A young boy spent many hours building a little sailboat, crafting it down to the finest detail. He then took it to a nearby river to sail it. When he put it in the water, however, it moved away from him very quickly. Though he chased it along the bank, he couldn't keep up with it. The strong wind and current carried the boat away. The heartbroken boy knew how hard he would have to work to build another sailboat.

Farther down the river, a man found the little boat, took it to town, and sold it to a shopkeeper. Later that day, as the boy was walking through town, he noticed the boat in a store window. Entering the store, he told the owner that the boat belonged to him. It had his own little marks on it, but he couldn't prove to the shopkeeper that the boat was his.

The man told him the only way he could get the boat was to buy it. The boy wanted it back so badly that he did exactly that.

As he took the boat from the hand of the shopkeeper, he looked at it and said, “Little boat, you're twice mine. I made you and I bought you.”

Application

In the same way, we are twice God's. Our Father in heaven both created us and paid a great price for us.

Colossians 1:16 : “For in Him was created everything in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones, or dominations, or principalities, or powers. All things were created through Him and in Him.”

And Romans 5:8-9 : “But God demonstrates His love for us in that, while we were yet sinners, at the proper time, Christ died for us. Therefore, having been justified now by His blood, all the more so shall we be saved from wrath through Him.”

With the blood of His Son, we have been redeemed and reunited with God. Jesus Christ gave His life to get us back, yet so often we show such little gratitude for what He has done for us.

Gratitude in Action

1°) Today, focus on expressing gratitude for and to your family members. In your diary, make a list of each member of your immediate family. Then next to each name write one quality about their life for which you are particularly grateful. Take time to thank God for each member of the family He has given you. Then pick one or two individuals from your list to whom you can express gratitude today, in person, by phone, or with a note or email. You might want to start by saying something like this:

“Today, I thanked God for you. And I wanted to tell you how grateful I am that you are part of my family, and especially for this particular quality I see in your life...”

2°) Everyday, during your evening prayer, write down briefly in your notebook three graces, i.e. three occasions to be grateful and thank God. They don't have to be the three most important gifts of God or in chronological order. Just write the three first ones that come to your mind. It's quick and easy.

Of course, my dear faithful, I keep you all in the ethereal diary of my mind, for you are all members of our mission family. And in this letter, I thank God for you—for your prayers and for your generosity and pray that He may bless you.

Yours sincerely in Caritate Christi,

Dear Benefactors,

In two days we will be beginning Lent, a special time to console Jesus and to satiate His thirst for souls. You, my dear benefactors, are an important part of our work and have a great share in our work and so you console Jesus and satiate His thirst for souls when you help us; please pray for us. All the souls we are able to bring to Jesus are because of your help, prayers and support.

In the last three months we have seen two baptisms of our old ladies. The grace of God finally touched Ulagammal, who is bed ridden, after being with us for 3 years. She received Baptism on the 12th of February and was christened, Maria Lourdes. Another old lady, Palani, who is blind, diabetic and a heart patient, was baptised in December. She had been preparing to receive baptism for Christmas, but after a medical emergency was baptised beforehand.

The last few months also brought us five new girls. Jesiba is from Palayam-kottai. Her father abandoned the family and mom was struggling to bring up her children – 2 boys (twins) and 1 girl. The girl is with us now and the boys are at the priory. Jesiba is 9 years old. Most of these girls have the same story – broken families because father is addicted to drinking and beating the mother... The youngest to come is Sweetie (4 years old). She came to live along with her mother, who is working for us now. Their's is the same story. Then we have Pavithra, 14 years old. A similar story, but this time it was the mother who ran away as she could not bear the beatings and the girl was living with her father before she came here. The next one is Bamma, also 14 years old, cousin of Sweetie. Her mom ran away with another man and her dad lost his mind and went away out into the wide world. And then we have Pratyusha, 9 years old. Her mother is a widow and has come to work for us.

Thank you for praying for Mary Rita.

We have to continue to pray till she comes back home to the orphanage.

Vocations From Asia

The Christmas period was one of great joy for the Dominican Sisters of Wanganui. In New Zealand, Sister Maria Swarupa (India) renewed her perpetual oblation and became a finally professed member of the community while Sister Marie Dominique (USA) renewed her temporary profession for two years—the last stretch before final profession.

In Australia, on the Feast of the Epiphany, we had the pleasure of visitors from the Orient and afar to see the taking of habit and first profession ceremony. Our three wise men, Frs. Couture, Delsorte and Belisle led the schola up in the choir loft while another royal group, Frs. Fullerton, MacPherson and Stephens were celebrant, deacon and subdeacon for the ceremony. We were also blessed with the presence of Fr. du Chauzaud and visiting seminarians.

It was a day of exceeding great joy as four postulants, on the Feast of the Epiphany, received the holy habit. Our generous little ones asked the Church for God's mercy, laid down their hair for love of Him, chose the crown of thorns and received new names: Miss Maria Beatriz Piña Mejia (Mexico) took the name Sister Maria Dolores; Miss Anna Cristen (Kansas, USA) took the name Sister Mary Amata; Miss Cara Ruegg (Maryland, USA) took the name Sister Mary Francis; and Miss Emilyn Ng (Singapore) took the name Sister Mary Imelda.

After the Gospel, our two American novices, Sisters Mary Johanna and Thomas, prostrated themselves before the altar, again seeking God's mercy, and then presented their gifts of poverty, chastity and obedience for the first time while placing their hands in those of Mother General. They were then each adorned with the black veil of a professed sister.

We pray now for their holy perseverance as we continue the work which is set before us. In Wanganui New Zealand, this entails expanding the girls' boarding school, which is now legally a licensed hostel under the name of Signadou, as well as continuing our work in education at the primary and secondary level. At Rosary Convent, Australia, work has begun on our own Teacher's College. Progress has been made to the extent that we are now able to train our young sisters ourselves (in the Catholic way), by crediting them with an internationally recognised teaching degree. This has been a wonderful step forward.

The most important task for now, however, is to build our much needed Motherhouse. Our desire is to have a colonial style convent near St. Thomas Aquinas School in Tynong. For that, we need your prayers and dare we be so bold.....your money. If you can help in this important work, please contact Mother Mary Micaela O.P., Prioress General at stdominic@spx.com. Ω
